Stakes are raised

LOGANHOLME'S Bedrock The Gourmet Meat Company has thrived since opening in 2005, swallowing competitors and delighting with its products.

Now Bedrock has further confirmed its success with a nomination in the 2009 Albert & Logan News Business Achiever Awards.

But time is running out for other Logan businesses to have their chance at the top, with award nominations closing at 10am next Tuesday.

Bedrock managing director Kevin Masterson said the company's first nomination was an exciting recognition of the company's commitment to quality. "I've had amazing responses since we've told customers in the shop (about the nomination)," he said. "I'm getting heaps of emails saying they've been on the website and voted."

Readers who nominate their local business champions also go in the draw to win a Story Bridge Climb for two, valued at $179.

Winners will be announced at a gala dinner later this year.

To nominate, see page 30.
